CALL FOR PAPERS
10TH INTERNATIONAL
CONFERENCE ON VIBRATIONS
IN ROTATING MACHINERY.

The Institution of Mechanical Engineers' International Conference on Vibrations in Rotating Machinery is one of the world's foremost events on the subject. Since the first conference in this series was held in 1976, this four-yearly meeting has defined and redefined the state of the art in the many aspects of vibration encountered in all forms of rotating machinery.

This conference has always been distinguished by the excellent mix of industrial and academic participation achieved. The resulting interactions have made it a unique forum for discussion in which the latest methods of theoretical, experimental and computational rotordynamics are exposed, alongside the current issues of concern in the further development of rotating machines. The aim of this conference is to continue to enhance this quality forum and thereby propel forward the standards of excellence in the design and operation of rotating machines.

THE MAIN PROGRAMME TOPICS:

Papers in all the traditional areas are welcomed. However, we would like to ensure the broadest possible range of technologies and applications and shall be encouraging special sessions on:

- Electrical machines
- Micro machines
- Smart machines
- 'Green' machines for sustainability and environmental applications
- Machinery vibration and noise
- Marine applications

OFFERS OF PAPERS

Abstracts of potential papers are now invited. These should be no longer than 500 words and they should be submitted electronically to l_meenan@imeche.org on or before Monday 3 October 2011. Authors will be advised of provisional acceptance of their papers by Monday 31 October 2011 and will be asked to provide complete draft manuscripts (also electronically) by Monday 16 January 2012. These manuscripts will be reviewed thoroughly and recommendations returned to the authors by Monday 2 April 2012. Final acceptance of the papers will be based on satisfactory responses to the recommendations and submission of final manuscripts (up to 4,000 words in length) by Friday 18 May 2012. The presenting author of each paper will be entitled to a substantial reduction in the registration fee and it is the Institution's policy that no speakers will be reimbursed any travel or accommodation expenses. All papers will be available on a memory stick and be accompanied by a published volume of abstracts available to all conference delegates. Authors are expected to attend the conference to present their work. In addition to the benefit of having a paper published in the conference proceedings, authors have the opportunity to submit their work to a journal. Work submitted must be an extension of the paper submitted to the conference and be completely original and innovative. Full details of the criteria, guidelines and journal scopes are available on Sage Publishing's website at www.sagepub.com/imeche. Please note this is optional and not a requirement for conference papers.

Authors whose papers are accepted will be required to attend the conference and give a short presentation.

Prizes will be awarded to the best:

- Written paper
- Oral presentation

Authors are encouraged to submit their abstracts with full contact details electronically to Lisa Meenan by email to: l_meenan@imeche.org
